DEMO DAY

Employer Overview

We're inviting your business to participate in Demo Day, a hands-on, small-group career exposure event giving students a real look at the skilled career opportunities already in their own community, and giving you a hand in shaping your future workforce.

What participation looks like

25 to 35 minute sessions with rotating small groups of students. No formal presentation. Think show-and-tell: what your day-to-day looks like, your career pathway to today, hands-on activities students can try and feel, and time to answer their questions.

For some students, Demo Day will be the moment a career stops being abstract and starts being possible. Your participation is a direct investment in the community and local workforce your business calls home.

What a session involves

Simple, structured and built around conversation.

- Sharing your career pathway
- What your day-to-day looks like
- Something students can try, not just watch or listen
- Conversation and questions

Hands-on engagement

Something every student can see, try or take part in.

- Completing a simple task
- Trying tools firsthand
- Walking through a live repair or process
- Seeing the results of real work up close
